Legislative Committee To Seek Revocation Of Order On Impounding Records

Legislature Names Committee To Conduct Probe—Plan To Start Investigation

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG Aug. 3—Pennsylvania's legislative graft investigation committee issued a subpena today demanding the appearance of District Attorney Carl B. Shelley of Dauphin county at its first hearing here tomorrow morning.

HARRISBURG, Aug. 3.—The Pennsylvania legislature today carried back to the courts its struggle with the judiciary.

Thus it held in abeyance more drastic measures such as impeachment proceedings and jail sentences—until the courts have ruled on whether a grand jury or legislative committee has precedent in investigating alleged corruption charges in Gov. George H. Earle's "little new deal" administration.

It arranged through its investigating committee—set up late yesterday and composed of five Democrats and two Republicans—for a hearing at 1 p. m. (EST) today before Judge Paul N. Schaeffer, the Berks County jurist who impounded the grand jury records which the legislature is determined to make public.

Seek Revocation Of Court Order

At that time committee counsel or committee chairman Herbert B. Cohen, Democratic house leader, was to appear before Judge Schaeffer and move that his orders impounding the evidence and forbidding the district attorney and key witnesses

STATE PROBE DEVELOPMENTS

(International News Service)

Developments today in Pennsylvania's legislative-judicial controversy included:

1—The house investigating committee met and decided to appeal Judge Schaeffer's decisions to the courts before deciding upon more drastic measures such as impeachments and jail sentences. Judge Schaeffer agreed to hear argument at 1 p. m. (EST).

2—The house committee decided to open its investigation without calling on District Attorney Shelley and former Attorney General Margiotti pending adjudication of its controversy with Judge Schaeffer. In the meantime, other witnesses will be called.

3—Herbert B. Cohen, legislative committee chairman, expressed confidence the state supreme court would overrule Judge Schaeffer.

4—Meanwhile District Attorney Shelley went ahead with preparations for the convening of the Dauphin county grand jury next Monday. He issued subpenas for key figures in the state government and Democratic party, among them Lawrence, McCloskey, Stern, Greenfield, Kelly, Kalodner. Judge Schaeffer will decide Monday whether the grand jury probe is to continue.

Few Upsets Seen In Tuesday's Primaries

(International News Service)

Tuesday's primaries in four states—Missouri Kansas Virginia and West Virginia—afforded little in the way of political upsets. The results were generally as anticipated by observers.

In Missouri — Senator Bennett Champ Clark proved an easy victor for renomination in the Democratic primary and will be opposed in November by ex-Gov. Henry S. Caulfield, who won the Republican nomination. A keen contest between Gov. Lloyd Stark and the Pendergast machine in Kansas City over a supreme court vacancy appears to have been won by the governor.

In Kansas—Ex-Gov. Clyde M. Reed won the Republican senatorial nomination in a field of three, which included the Rev. Gerald Winrod. Winrod ran a poor third in the race. Reed will face Senator George McGill, Democrat, in the November elections.

In Virginia—All incumbent Democratic congressmen were renominated save one. In the Tidewater

REV. GERALD WINROD IS THIRD IN RACE

(International News Service)

TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 3.—Clyde M. Reed, of Parsons, former progressive governor, won the Republican nomination for U. S. Senator from Kansas in a near walk-away in Tuesday's primaries, and the Rev. Gerald B. Winrod, Wichita minister termed the "Kansas Nazi," was third in the race, incomplete returns showed today.

Dallas Knapp, of Coffeyville, finished second.

Reed's plurality probably will exceed 35,000 votes, it was believed. The count early today showed:

Reed 79,647; Knapp 45,889; Winrod 41,265.

Ratner For Governor.

Payne H. Ratner, a member of Alf M. Landon's old state organization, was believed to be named for at least a 40,000 plurality in the Republican race for the governor's nomination.

George McGill of Wichita, New Deal Democratic incumbent in the U. S. senate, had an easy time in his bid for renomination, leading many precincts 10 to 1 over Joe Dobmer of Peabody. He will probably face Reed in the Fall election.

The two Democrats and five Republicans in the house were seemingly renominated on the basis of incomplete returns.

Hunt Young For Sioux Falls Crime

(International News Service)

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Aug. 3.—Earl Young, 28-year-old Lebanon, Pa., ex-convict wanted for kidnaping and attempted murder, today was sought as a suspect in a new crime—the sadistic slaying of pretty 17-year-old Betty Schmaidt, of Sioux Falls.

Launching a search for him in six states, authorities named Young "Suspect No 1" in the brutal murder. The girl's body, bound hand and foot with a towel knotted about the neck, was found in a weed patch 150 miles southwest of here yesterday.

Anti-New Dealer Virginia Winner

Congressman H. W. Smith Is Far Ahead In Returns From Primary

WAS REPORTEDLY MARKED FOR PURGE

(International News Service)

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 3.—Reportedly marked for the New Deal "purge", veteran Rep. Howard W. Smith today was topheavy victor over William E. Dodds, Jr., in the Democratic primary contest for nomination to the house of representatives from Virginia's eighth district.

Dodd's campaign to unhorse Smith, who opposed the administration frequently in important legislative battles, had been watched with keen interest by administration political analysts as a possible poll of popular sentiment on President Roosevelt's policies. The eighth district lies just across the Potomac river from the capital.

Tantamount To Election.

The youthful son of the former United States ambassador to Germany, keynoting his race with the slogan, "a vote for Dodd is a vote for Roosevelt", polled only 6,550 votes to 19,601 for Smith, who has held the house seat since 1930. Only 10 out of 219 precincts were not included in these figures.

The nomination, of course, is tantamount to election in this traditional stronghold of the Democrats.

Smith carried both cities in the district—Alexandria and Charlottesville—and all 15 counties.

In the second district, the only other one in the state's nine districts where there was a contest, former Rep. Colgate W. Darden, Jr., of Norfolk won back his old seat from Rep. Norman R. Hamilton of Portsmouth.

Man Who Has Loaned Billions Of U. S. Funds Sees Better Times As Certain

By GEORGE R. HOLMES

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Jesse H. Jones, the big wheel and no man, who was lending billions of dollars of federal money before the new deal started functioning, sailed for Europe today for a month's trip in a cheerful frame of mind concerning the general business outlook in these United States.

The big, genial chairman of the R. F. C. (Reconstruction Finance Corporation) could find no menacing clouds on the business horizon as he set forth on the only real vacation he has had since assuming the chairmanship of the government's biggest lending agency, six years ago.

General Outlook Good

"The general outlook is pretty good," he observed to the writer today before boarding the Normandie. "Of course, we're not making any of those old predictions about prosperity is just around the corner. That corner has proved somewhat elusive in the last few years. But, honestly, the general business outlook is good and I think it is going to look better as time goes on. We are getting ready to go places."

"Why?" said the Texan, "big business has decided to go ahead, for one thing. For a long time too long, in fact, big business was in a

Results of yesterday's special election, in which less than a third of the city's qualified voters participated, gave the following: Yes, 57,130; no, 34,593. The tally represented complete returns from the city's 413 districts.

Mayor Scully announced he was "highly gratified" over the approval. The federal government is expected to add another five million dollars to the sum which will be used for civic improvements.

To Circulate Petition For Street Lights

Residents Of Union Township Decide In Favor Of Lighting At Meeting

In view of the fact that the majority of property owners of Union township, who met Tuesday evening in the White schoolhouse, favored street lighting, a petition for lights will be circulated in the district.

R. G. Leslie, a resident of the district, served as chairman of the meeting. A discussion, pro and con, was heard relative to the subject.

A motion was made to have the petition circulated among the property owners to secure their signatures as being in favor of the lights.

If enough petition signers are secured a "lighting area" will be set up in the township, and lights will be installed in the most densely populated sections. This will include lighting along West Washington street extension and adjacent streets.

Paul Dingledy and Elmer Tinstman representing the local power company, were present and answered all questions brought up by the residents regarding the question.

DETROIT, Aug. 3. Winging their way to some unknown destination, 21-year-old Danny Dodge, heir to motor millions and his bride of a few hours, Ann Lorraine MacDonald, tugboat captain's daughter today had written the second chapter of their story-book romance.

As quietly as they had conducted their romance the young people were married before a few guests at the home of his mother at their suburban Rochester estate Meadowbrook Hall, yesterday afternoon.

Danny and Lorraine met three years ago at Gore Bay, Ont. where the Dodge heir was vacationing. Danny was constantly in the company of the young telephone operator. The romance was common knowledge in Gore Bay before the news reached Detroit.

Last fall Miss MacDonald admitted the engagement. A formal announcement came two months ago.

With the present cycle of weather ideal for outdoor construction work, WPA Director Walter N. Todd today announced that the force on the Parkstown County airport would be doubled within a day or so, thus permitting a force of men to be at work six days per week.

At the present time there are about 60 men at work on the port. Grading, stone base rolling and black topping of runways was and with the present weather continuing the work will be rushed to completion.

It is probable that the date for the dedication of the Airport will be considered in the near future. With one of the finest airports in the state there is the feeling that the formal opening of it should be done with considerable display.

Assail Both Factions In Kentucky

Senate Probers Score Methods

Spectacular Contests Over Senatorial Seats May Be Outcome Of Battle

CHARGE EFFORT TO CONTROL W. P. A. VOTE

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Spectacular contests over senatorial seats may be the outcome of bitter primary election battles, it appeared today, as the senate campaign committee assailed both factions in the Kentucky fight.

The charge [illegible] Senator Walter F. George of Georgia, committee member, [illegible] activities "the Perkins [illegible] primary as [illegible]."

Imperil Free Ballot.

So aroused was the committee over its investigation report on the fight in Kentucky between Senator Alben Barkley, New Deal champion, and Gov. A. B. "Happy" Chandler that it declared that conditions "imperil the right of the people to free and unprejudiced ballot."

Senator Morris Sheppard, D., of Texas, chairman of the investigating committee, announced that the report, based on "by a full and complete report of all elections corruption and abuses would be laid before the senate."

Definite evidence that efforts are being made to control the WPA vote in a charge made in many places was supplied to the committee by Ralph Burton, its Kentucky investigator.

WPA Administrator Harry L. Hopkins quickly issued a statement, however, claiming that the reports received by the committee were not directed against any WPA administrative personnel. He said the report showed that the rumors were aimed "at persons entirely outside the WPA who sought to use relief workers to vote for one candidate or another."

Huge Political Machine.

The possibility of the [illegible] social security administrative system being turned into a huge political machine also was seen by the [illegible] committee as the investigation reported that state officials charged with handling social security had been "blackjacked" for political contributions.

Committee investigators will be in the [illegible] in both Tennessee, where [illegible] on Thursday, and [illegible] the primary is [illegible] on September 12, was announced.

Charges that coercion of nearly [illegible] WPA workers in Kentucky was being practiced by Barkley [illegible] have been repeatedly made on the stump. Barkley supporters charged that the Chandler [illegible] was using state old age and unemployment compensation office, in which some 20,000 on the state rolls.

Without specifically naming either the Barkley or Chandler forces, the Sheppard committee said its investigation showed that "personnel officials have been and are being made to control the vote of those on relief work, and that contributions have been sought and obtained from relief employees, in behalf of one or the senatorial candidates."

[illegible] Lawrence County" as is evidenced by a flock of oil and gas leases that have recently been taken in the south western part of Lawrence county. Most people imagine that "little Lawrence" has been pretty thoroughly tested for oil and gas, but there are some sections yet to be tried. The first oil was found here in the old Gemmill well on the Slippery Rock creek. Later oil was found in the Edinboro district and Bessemer sections and near Volant. There has been a showing of oil in other sections but not in very paying quantities. Gas has been found in Shenango, Scott, Washington, Slippery Rock, North Beaver, Mahoning and some other townships. The last deep well was drilled in Slippery Rock township. There are still oil men who believe that a big pool exists somewhere in the county.

Farming sections surrounding Slippery Rock, the college town are being visited today by a caravan of Butler county farmers who have been joined by some Lawrence county farmers residing in the eastern part of the county. The points of interest near Slippery Rock are the farms of Thomas Dennistion and Hugh Fergus. The latter has a 198 acre dairy farm, on which there is a herd of sixty-five cows. Of special interest will be a pasture of thirty-two acres of Sudan grass, which is something new in this section. The farm is equipped with the latest in operating and preservation machinery. On the Dennistion farm the caravan will inspect ten acres of seed potatoes, six acres of soy beans, acreage of 800 bushes of potatoes, and 2000 pines planted some ten years ago.

Lack of proper control of the [illegible] business throughout the state is having repercussions in the [illegible] of Manufacturers Institute Club [illegible] to be among the principal objectives. Chartered for the non-profit purpose of providing libraries and rooms for social enjoyment and for the teaching of the principles of Americanism many of them have prostituted their declared objectives and have been found to be nothing more than drinking joints where members imbibe so freely that they wouldn't know a hog from a hot-jack. Several of these clubs in Lawrence county have already lost their charters and others are heading in the same direction. Citizens are also complaining about the way some of the licensed saloons are being run. Even those who are not opposed to taverns are shocked at some of the sights that may be witnessed on our streets. Revocation under the old Brooks law was much more rigid.

Pa News has received a copy of the Greenville Record-Argus, cited as factor of "one thousand celebration in progress this week." It marks the progress of the town from its beginning down to the present time. It is replete with illustrations picturing and comparing the past with the present. One of the striking differences which Pa Newc notes as it relates to earstwhile prominent citizens of today and yesterday, is that the faces of the latter are either treecode with whiskers or moustaches, while those of the former are beardless as a new born babe. The women, too, illustrate the vagaries of fashion. Hoop-skirts and bustles, on the old-timers, rouge and lip-stick on the modern. Yes, Greenville is going modern. Congratulations.

Vernon Clark, of 405 Fern street, has found an easy and safe method of circumventing the corn borer. He merely tacked up a sign, "No Corn Borers Allowed. Upon Pain of Death", when his sweet corn began to tassle, and now he has some of the finest "Yellow Bantum" that ever grew, and "Mary a corn borer in sight."

Pa Newc can't understand why the approach to Harrisburg from New Castle is not given a top covering of amnesite or something. That piece of highway on the hill is about the roughest that we have encountered. Efforts at patching have been such that it is most uneven.

About 700 persons picnicked at Cascade park last Sunday, and looking at the licenses of their cars it could be seen they were from various states. Many expressed their appreciation to Supt. Coulthard of the arrangements and conveniences found at the park.

At Cascade park our attention was called to a hollyhock plant with cream colored blooms, extending its head to the heavens like Babel's Tower. We were told the plant had not been petted or pampered, and neither had it been fertilized. Its height was 12 feet seven inches, by careful measurement.

REPORTS PLACE HUGE ARMIES ON RUSS-JAP FRONT

Soviet infantry, covered by 18 guns and 30 tanks, attacked the Shaosingsoping heights at 3 p. m. yesterday. Fighting occurred at close quarters, only 200 yards separating the opposing forces.

"The Soviets finally were forced to withdraw about 400 yards.

"A second attack at 8 p. m. last night was also repulsed.

Losses Heavy

"Soviet losses were extremely heavy."

It was admitted, however, that a Soviet artillery force occupied a position near Mayoshan 6½ miles northeast of Kojo, "after which Kojo was bombarded by planes flying at a height of 6000 feet."

In a later communique, which claimed the Soviet "sent all retreating" the Seoul army headquarters telecrapsed to Tokyo:

"The Soviet troops ceased attacking at 10 a. m. today.

"Their troops, which had approached to within 150 yards of the Japanese lines at Shaosingsoping retreated more than 800 yards, where they began constructing defenses.

"The Soviet detachments which had taken up a position just over a mile southeast of Changkufeng hill are also apparently retreating.

No Planes Seen

"Clouds are low, so no Soviet planes have been seen."

Semi-official news dispatches also said that a decree for tendered the Soviet air force inactive at the immediate scene of fighting, save for two planes which bombed Japanese held air positions.

It was suggested however, that the Red army commanders are taking advantage of the fog to reinforce their troops.

Bombardment of Kojo, the news message said, continued all day.

In view of the "persistent Soviet air raids" said advices from Seoul, the government has ordered strict air defense measures in northern Korea including light control.

Similar defensive measures were established in Japan proper. The light control system is being extended throughout almost all the islands encircling around Tokyo.

Soviet Warning

Moscow, Aug. 3 - An ominous warning in Tokyo that the Soviet Union considers further fighting "inevitable" was issued today by the Moscow regime.

At the same time, denying Japanese claims of triumphs in the Changkufeng area of the Siberian-Manchukuoan border, the Russian government claimed a few military victory over the legions of Nippon.

While the fighting around Changkufeng hill approached the proportions of a major conflict, Moscow released a sensational communique which accused Japanese diplomats of responsibility for alleged armed Japanese attack on Soviet soil.

"Most serious results" are likely to result, the communique warned.

Diplomatic quarters here were especially concerned over the statement that further warfare is "unavoidable." This was taken as an indication that the Soviets are prepared to continue the fighting along the disputed frontier even if a major war results.

OUTLOOK GOOD DECLARES JONES, HEAD OF R. F. C.

mood to pick up its dolls and go home. The boys didn't want to play. Their antagonism to President Roosevelt and to the New Deal was such as to blind them to the realities of the situation. They forgot, temporarily, that there was still business—and big business to be done in this country. They quit playing for a while.

All Is Changed

"But all that is changed now. The big boys have decided to play—to keep on operating, and the effects of that decision are going to be felt clear down to the corner grocery.

"It has been my observation that little business takes its cue from big business. If the big banker isn't lending any money, then the little banker doesn't either. If the big fellow isn't expanding, then the little fellow starts pulling in his horns. Big business sets the pace; little business follows. Now, big business has decided that, whether they like Mr. Roosevelt or not, it's time to go ahead. And we are going."

Natural conditions, he said, have aided the new-found decision of big business to cooperate with, instead of opposing, the administration.

The recent decline in industrial activity has depleted accumulated inventories, he declared, and the country is now harvesting one of its greatest crops.

"That Means Money"

"That means money," he continued, "money in the hands of people who propose to spend it for things they need. Orders for manufactured goods now mean that those goods have to be manufactured, not pulled off dusty shelves. That means employment. That means the purchase of raw materials.

"We have big crops this year. In some instances commodity prices are too low, but still they are high enough to afford a greater proportion of our country real purchasing power. The effect of that purchasing power is going to be felt for a long time, and in all sections of the country.

"One of the most hopeful signs is found in the automobile industry. The automobile manufacturers, who were pretty well in the dumps some months ago, are now really optimistic. They are getting orders, and they are not filling those orders from storage. They are making cars again. They haven't enough cars to meet the current demand, and they won't have until they get caught up with their schedule again.

"Everybody thanks the railroads are in a bad way. Well, some of them are. Ye the other day I talked to the president of a road in 1933, whether he needed any money. He said no. He said they had a bumper crop along his right-of-way and that he was moving it to market.

"He didn't want money. And when a railroad doesn't want money it is out of the R. F. C. these days, that's sure."

New Tax Law Effect

The R. F. C. director also expressed the opinion that the effect of the new tax law was yet to become to be felt. "In the last session of congress, the undistributed profits tax was virtually wiped out and the capital gains tax materially reduced.

"It has taken some time for the effect of this to be felt," he said. "Of course, business always favors, but business now has a pretty good tax law. They won't admit it of course, but that is the fact. And the effect of it is beginning to become apparent."

The R. F. C.'s lending business continues brisk, despite the betterment in private business, Jones admitted. This he put down to the "caution of the banking fraternity." Taxes is the last month he has appealed to the bankers for more liberal credit policies.

Since the R. F. C. resumed its lending activities six months ago, he said, it has authorized 2,865 loans aggregating more than half a billion dollars. Much of this he thought, should have been granted by private banks. They have participated for the most part in these loans, but in Jones' opinion they should have taken them all. Forty per cent of the loans were made in small business, loans of under $5,000; another twenty per cent came in the $10,000 class. That was his reply to critics who have asserted the R. F. C. was interested only in "the big boys."

All in all, the big, genial Texan left for Europe in a happy frame of mind concerning the general economic outlook.

"It's pretty good," he said.

From a cautious man, that is saying a lot.

HAMBURG FRY IS ENJOYED LAST NIGHT

Favored with ideal weather, the members of Mrs. Oscar Rhodes' Sunday school class and S. of D. society of the Central Presbyterian church motored to the Montgomery cottage on the Slippery Rock creek near Ramblers Rest, Tuesday evening, and had a hamburg fry.

While the women enjoyed bingo games in the cottage, Vance Montgomery and Samuel Hague were very busy preparing the hamburgers for their delectation at a large bonfire outside. Later when everything was ready, and chairs had been placed in a circle around the fire, the ladies were invited outside. They found that the men were excellent chefs and had cooked the hamburgers to just the right turn. Late in the evening all returned to their homes, having had a lovely time.

Twenty-eight had attended the picnic. Mrs. Mont Forney won high score prize in the bingo. Mrs Norman Keefer was a special guest.

On September 6 the women will have their next meeting.

Visit Rev. Ellison

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Thompson and family of Florence avenue have returned home after a most enjoyable motor trip through the northern sections of Michigan, and a week at the home of Mrs. Thompson's brother, Rev. J. B. Ellison, and family, at Honor, Mich. This was their first visit together in 12 years, and it was a happy reunion.

Rev. Ellison is a former resident of this city, and for a time he assisted at the City Rescue Mission. He is now pastor of two Congregational churches, at Honor and Been, respectively. The two families spent many happy hours together, as Rev. Ellison lives near four lakes, Lake Crystal, Big Platte, Little Platte and Lake Michigan. Most of the time was spent in fishing, swimming and canoeing. The beaches on these lakes are all sand and all sorts of amusements are placed there for the kiddies to enjoy.

One interesting feature en route was the roadside tables for the convenience of motorists by the Michigan State Highway Department; they impressed the tourists and certainly were used and appreciated by the traveling public.

En route home many points of interest were visited. The weather up north was cool but very pleasant, and the Thompsons experienced no rains en route there nor on the return trip.

Honors Granddaughter.

Mrs. Richard Boughton entertained 24 little tots at a party Saturday afternoon in her home on Winslow avenue, honoring the sixth birthday anniversary of her granddaughter, Evelyn Boughton.

Games were played during the afternoon, with prizes going to Freddie Stimple, Vera Jessel, George Pappas, Billie Foreman, John Martella and Patty Jessel. At an appointed hour the youthful guests were seated at a table attractively decorated in tones of pink and white. The hostess was assisted in serving the dainty lunch by her daughters-in-law, Mrs. Clara Boughton and Mrs. Howard Boughton.

The honoree received a collection of appropriate gifts in remembrance of the happy occasion.

BOOM TIMES FOR THE BUREAUCRATS

WITH the rapid growth of New Deal agencies, it is disclosed that privately owned office space, rented by the Government for its army of workers in Washington, has reached a peak of 3,245,775 square feet, an increase of about 300,000 square feet over last year's requirements and 500,000 more than in 1936.

Put another way, this means that the Government now finds it necessary, to house its swarm of Washington employees, to rent from private owners office space the equivalent of a rectangle one mile long and about 275 feet wide.

Recent tabulation of the Government's employees, not excluding the members of agencies created by the last Congress and excluding military, legislative and official personnel, showed a total of 810,743—114,543 of them in Washington—drawing an annual payroll of $1,123,951,736. Here is a horrendously truly awe-inspiring, symbolic of the gigantic expenditures of a Government that doesn't know the meaning of the word economy.

There is a gentle irony in the announcement that in the quest for departmental office space many garages are being taken over and remodeled. The garages are a continuing reminder that, in the swift expansion of America's bureaucracy, the taxpayers are being taken for a ride.

ON THE VAST PACIFIC

The Clipper service across the Pacific has been operating with such unfailing efficiency for a number of years that its inauguration, although one of the marvels of modern aviation, has come to be looked upon as a commonplace performance.

The planes themselves are the perfect products of that new science, with every conceivable device for safety and efficiency. They are manned by fliers whose records are cause for envy among those who follow aviation. Travel in the Clippers has come to be regarded, with every justification, as involving a minimum of risk. By reason of all these circumstances, the news that the Hawaii Clipper with fifteen men on board is long overdue and that widespread search has revealed no trace of the plane comes as a disturbing surprise. Naturally, it conjures up in the mind thoughts of the tragedy of Amelia Earhart, one of the great mysteries of aviation.

Search will, of course, be intensified, and hope will not be abandoned. But the Pacific is a vast expanse of sea, and it is difficult to repress the emotion of fear when contemplating the possibilities of success.

BUSINESS PAST "DEAD CENTER"

Better business and improved economic conditions during the remaining months of 1938 have now passed from the status of a hope to that of a reality. This is the established conviction of leading economists, of the governors of the Federal Reserve System and of industrial leaders.

During the last six weeks the Stock Market has shown convincing signs of strength, but cautious observers, distrusting this volatile barometer of fluctuating economic trends, have restrained an inclination toward optimism. Now there is a disposition to accept the market performances as being indicative of basic soundness.

It is important that General Motors reports net earnings of $25,000,000 during the second quarter of the year as compared with $6,000,000 in the first quarter, also that comparable figures for the Chrysler Corporation were $3,600,000 and $2,000,000.

The Guaranty Trust Company reports evidence that business is off "dead center" and should improve in the Fall. Opinion among economists and business leaders is almost unanimously in support of the conclusion that there will be substantial improvement by the end of the year.

What is particularly heartening is the belief that there will be no boom, that whatever improvement takes place will be on a normal and enduring basis. There is, accordingly, cause for optimism, which should, however, be kept under reasonable restraints.

THIRD TERM QUESTION

When Gov. Frank Murphy of Michigan urged Americans to "keep an open mind" toward the third-term question, he asked something that is rather difficult. Even President Roosevelt's greatest supporters question whether there should be a break in a precedent and tradition established by the nation's first President.

One of the most complimentary views it has been possible to take of the New Deal has been to assume that it does represent a new temper in a vast section of the American people, a temper capable of perpetuating itself and establishing its own reforms. Such a movement, if it is long to survive, must be capable of generating new leaders.

Is the New Deal then, a continuing philosophy or a personal rule, dependent only on one man? Does it wish to admit that it now has only one leader capable of filling the highest office in the land?

Ten previous Presidents served two terms. None ran for a third successive term, although U. S. Grant was probably willing to do so. Five of the ten—George Washington, Grant, Grover Cleveland, Woodrow Wilson and Calvin Coolidge—made no attempt to dictate to party or nation who should be their successor. Five others—Thomas Jefferson, James Madison, Andrew Jackson, Theodore Roosevelt and James Monroe—tried to continue their political rule through an heir in office. All but Monroe succeeded.

Third term talk was most recently raised ten years ago when Calvin Coolidge prepared to depart from the White House. Mr. Coolidge, however, had been elected but once, having served less than half of Warren G. Harding's term and was finishing the one term for which he had been chosen in 1924.

Much discussion resulting from Republican proposals that Mr. Coolidge be a candidate again was silenced, however, by his famous "I do not choose to run" statement and the G. O. P. selected Herbert Hoover as his successor.

The public does not know whether President Roosevelt is nursing third term ambitions but many people insist he is. Therefore, it is entirely likely that, when Congress goes into session next January, an anti-third term resolution will be placed before the nation's legislators.

Whatever soundness the anti-third term sentiment may will then begin to evolve more definitely. The fact remains that many thousands of Americans believe firmly that the anti-third term precedent set by the first President should be followed. Their opinion is not dictated by politics.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

A BUSY MOTHER

"DEAR DR. MYERS: Both my husband and I read your articles each day with great interest. Articles relating to the home or school I enjoy so much, as I was a teacher before my marriage.

"I am attending adult evening classes in home arts. I enjoy them a great deal as I have met people each night we have our class that I probably would not make their acquaintance otherwise. I am tied at home during the daytime with our little family of five children, ranging in age one to eight. It surely means a great deal keeping them in clean clothes alone, with all the other daily demands on me. I started training them to clean habits when six or eight months old, and the baby now being fourteen months old tries to tell me when she has to use her nursery chair. Now that all means work, but it is so worthwhile.

"My husband has been out of work so much of late and we haven't the means to take in entertainments that cost. I try and go to P.-T. A. meetings and such school activities as we can afford, when he can stay with the children. I just get myself ready, when I go above and leave the children to him to get ready for bed, even the baby. When I leave the care of them all every day, hearing all the noise, quarrels, and answering questions of the most trying sort, it surely is a relief to walk out as much once in a while.

Hasn't Enough Patience

"The letter which you published a few weeks ago, written by that mother who was expecting another child, seemed to apply to me so much as I felt as though I missed the patience I should have in a great many instances. Then at night, after working all day long, there is so much mending or other tasks to complete before going to bed. Hardly any time to read or enjoy an evening. After getting to bed, if baby or one of the others cries, mother has been getting up and caring for their needs. It keeps me nervous and so tired all of the time. . . . We have had so much hard luck since our marriage; sickness, doctor bills, nurse's bills, hospital bills, having to give up our farms, then the small one. I had pernicious anemia three year after my fourth child was born and was in the hospital seven weeks. I just had no chance to rest after that. Now I must have all the rest I need. . . .

"But that just me taking the course and not get away from the children. Let that one be 'home at last.' I might change so about the house and make more out of myself. Never to bake cakes if for getting married, only for being too exacting in housekeeping and doing more than is absolutely necessary. I am sure you are a good mother and good for your own good, perhaps."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

PUSH AND PULL

James Rowland Angell, President Emeritus of Yale University, is a very remarkable man. I can't remember one of his most interesting.

Last year the program committee of Columbia University invited Dr. Angell to be a speaker at one of the weekly chapels held at that institution of learning.

He traveled down from New Haven, carrying without a tear for his speech. He got off at Grand Central, and was still unprepared. He took a taxicab up to Morningside Heights and still had no idea of what he would say. Walking up the chapel steps he quite suddenly saw a sign on the door. "Push." That would be the subject. He would speak about the value of aggressiveness in life, of gentle force in the world.

Upon the platform he began to speak. The text for his speech is not drawn from the Bible, or from any great philosopher, rather from a sign on the chapel door, minus the object that a person may have." His entire audience twisted their heads and saw inscribed on that chapel door the word "Pull."

And it took Dr. Angell some time to realize the reason for the hardly concealed merriment in the faces of his audience.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

WILD CANARY

As I was on my way to work I saw
A little wild canary land in a tree.
A little wild canary and a lovely thing, to see
His coat was black and yellow and so mussed his fur
I wondered God could do it with so delicate a throat.

Now I have heard canaries in the homes of rich men sing,
But the music of a wild bird is a more ecstatic thing
And I'll swear that little fellow on a swinging apple bough
Poured out a richer lyric than this one I'm writing now.

I gazed at him a moment, wondering what his song could mean.
When, the voice inside me whispered: "It's a miracle you've seen!
That bit of living splendor with that burst of rapturous song
Is God's way of reaching mortals as they trudge their way along."

Women must be more generous. A wife gives her husband's old clothes to the poor, but you never saw a man who dared to give away his wife's old clothes.

TODAY'S STORY ETTE

HOW BETS TALK

A SHORT SHORT STORY

It all started Henry G. Fairbuckle had spent a delightful week-end at Horace Allen, Jr.'s and had persuaded his wife to spend a few days after before at the institution. He was kind to animals and a lot of old people across the street knew it. But he hadn't counted on was unusual from those of his Lenses in one respect—they had a chance to possess a heart in distress and win the eternal gratitude of their pups.

But Henry was not discouraged. He knew his charms would come. And one of the joys of Dick's motorcycle trips to a beach or [illegible] being nearby. Upon [illegible] and the afternoon he heard a [illegible] "Help, Help!" Looking toward the water Henry saw a terrier [illegible] going desperately in the water. Without any he raced into the surf and dragged her ashore.

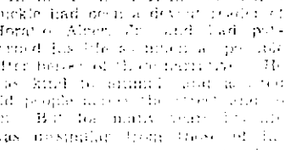
Her father was duly grateful but unlike the groups he was no wealthy nor was Henrietta that was her name beautiful. Nevertheless Henry's soul was satisfied and they eventually were happily married. They were deeply in love with each other, but as the years passed Henry grew more and more unhappy for he had concealed a terrible secret from Henrietta. At last he could bear it no longer and determined to confess.

"Henrietta," he declared, "I have deceived you. I married you under false pretenses."

"Why, what on earth do you mean, Henry?" asked Henrietta.

"I didn't save your life at all that time at the beach," he said miserably. "That water was hardly knee-deep."

"Forget it, Henry," said Henrietta. "I had one foot on the bottom all the time I was screaming."



There is no sex equality. A true gentleman doesn't hide his opinion of a fool man.

Habit is often hard to break. The first thing some farm dogs do when they reach the city is to try and sow some wild oats.

Some birds don't care one bit about civic pride than they do of a crib from which they have eaten the corn. This is evident by the

Readers' Questions Answered

Dear Miss Markel: Give us some information on military weddings. Is it correct for the bride to be given away by a civilian? I am referring, of course, to a formal wedding. All of the male attendants are fellow-officers of my future husband. How are we to march out of the church? DOTTY.

Answer—It will be perfectly correct for you to be given away by a civilian. The bridegroom and his fellow-officers should wear their full-dress uniforms. After the ceremony, the officers march out to the church steps and, dividing into two lines, they raise their swords to form an archway of steel under which the bride and groom walk to their waiting automobile. The swords are not raised until the bride and groom appear at the church door.

Time Flying Too Fast For Girls At Camp East Brook

Season Will End Friday Evening; Operetta Is Planned For Tonight

Tempus is fugiting and the Camp East Brook season will be over on Friday, all too soon for the half hundred young misses who have been having such heaps of fun there this past week.

A whirl of activities is planned for the remaining three evenings. Tonight there will be an operetta, "O Cho San"; Thursday night a formal dinner party, with half the girls as boys and the remainder remaining girls; and Friday evening there will be a swimming demonstration at the pool at 6:30, for the interest of the parents who come for their daughters.

Last night there was a picnic. Last Sunday night the girls had the traditional Camp East Brook candlelight worship service at the banks of the pool.

After Friday night Camp East Brook will be used only by groups such as the Beaver Valley Presbytery which rents the dormitory each summer for a few days' "retreat."

Dewey Studies Court Records Of Years Back

New York District Attorney Studies Cases Five Years Back For New Evidence

MORE SENSATIONS STRONGLY HINTED

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Hinting at new additions to the list of judges and public officials who allegedly were "influenced, intimidated or bribed" by James J. Hines, District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey and his aides today scrutinized court records of the last five years in search of corroborating evidence.

Dewey's first blast against the judiciary in which he named former "District Attorney William C. Dodge, Magistrate Hulon Capshaw and the late Magistrate Francis Ewald resulted in Capshaw being relieved from further service pending determination of the charges against Tammany Leader Hines.

Assertions Denied

Capshaw vehemently denied all of Dewey's assertions. Dodge, predecessor to Dewey in the district attorney's office, declined comment for the present.

Dewey's scrutiny of the court records was expected to produce other sensations before Hines goes to trial August 15 on charges involving him with the operation of the $10,000,000-a-year policy slips racket set up by the late Arthur (Dutch Shultz) Flegenheimer.

In the bill of particulars in which he listed the names of three officials who allegedly were influenced, intimidated or bribed, Dewey said [illegible] officials against [illegible]

Fund Requests Must Come Soon

Warning Issued To Municipalities And States To File Applications At Once

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3—The public works administration today formally warned municipalities and states seeking federal funds for public works to file their applications quickly, or stand the chance of being left out in the cold.

The warning was issued over the name of PWA Administrator Harold L. Ickes by his lieutenants. Ickes is now on a combined vacation-inspection trip to Alaska.

Many projects will not come under the wire unless there is immediate action, Ickes said, pointing out that first come will be first served.

Ickes pointed out that nearly 59 per cent of the PWA's recovery fund of $1,365,000,000 has already been allocated for non-federal and federal projects, with but 58 days remaining in which applications for projects may be filed.

This hundreds of localities will fail to obtain federal funds for their proposed public works projects.

Over 600 Turkeys In One Flock In Lawrence County

Many Thanksgiving Dinners Being Prepared Out In Slippery Rock District

With August just in rompers it seems a trifle early to begin talking of roast turkey, with dressing and plenty of gravy. But it isn't too early to take a look at the future drum sticks and slices of white meat.

Out in Slippery Rock township, on the road leading to the Armstrong bridge, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Shaffer raise turkeys every summer and this year there are over 600 of the birds running around, fattening themselves for somebody's Thanksgiving table.

Turkeys are not like chickens. Barred Rocks, Anconas, Brahmas have no place in the naming of turkeys. Their color decides their names. The Shaffers have two types of turkeys this year, bronze and black. The black turkeys are new to Lawrence county and are said to mature a few weeks ahead of the bronze.

As very small birds they have to be kept off the ground and heavy mesh screen wire is provided in the pens. By now the birds are in the gawky stage and running around the acres set apart for them.

By September they will be fattening up, showing their adult feathers and taking on the weight that will sell them to the markets in November. Thousands of turkeys have been raised on the Shaffer farm and epicures will tell you that "Lawrence county toms" make a tasty dish for the November holidays.

MAN FINED $300 FOR CARRYING REVOLVER

MEADVILLE, Pa., Aug. 3.—C. Kline, 61, was fined $300 for violation of the uniform firearms act today as he appeared before Judge O. Clare Kent in Crawford county court. Judge Kent also ordered Kline to be placed on a two-year parole.

Old Timers Are Urged To Invite Friends To Picnic

Although members of the committee in charge of the arrangements for the annual Old Timer's Picnic which will take place at Cascade Park on Wednesday, August 17, are bending every effort to make the day an outstanding success, the members of Lawrence county's pioneer families who are eligible to attend the event are asked to cooperate with the committee toward this end.

It is suggested that they send invitations to all their friends and relatives residing outside the city, who are members of families who resided in New Castle prior to 1861 urging them to attend the event. This is one sure method of insuring a large attendance for the day.

This, of course, only completes half of their obligation for they in turn are asked to grace the occasion with their presence and to assist in every way possible in making the event the crowning success it is expected to be.

For those who wish to come to the park early and have their noon meal there arrangements are being made to check the baskets in the grove, where tables will be reserved exclusively for the Old Timers and their families.

Following the close of the program at the pavilion, a basket picnic dinner will be enjoyed in the grove. Last year many folks did not understand that these arrangements could be made and they only came for the program during the afternoon.

The committee suggests that those attending stay for dinner following the program and to bring their picnic baskets along thus making it a real old-fashioned picnic.

Other arrangements for the occasion will be detailed as the date for the picnic nears.

Certain it is that President Fred B. Sankey and his associates are going to have a splendid program arranged for the occasion and one that will be well worth taking part in.

DAILY DOZEN

From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania

What is more delicate than the first faint hints of a summer sunrise?

Baby's skin, for instance.

It is easily irritated by rough clothing and improperly washed diapers.

In hot weather, infants often break out with a pimply rash on neck, face and other parts of the body.

This is described as prickly heat.

It is usually the result of dressing baby too warmly.

On hot days, even the young infant needs only a diaper, with perhaps a cotton shirt or band.

Bicarbonate of soda baths will be very soothing to baby if he has prickly heat.

Baby's bath is an important part of the daily routine.

Only the mildest of soaps should be used.

Baby's skin should be patted, not rubbed, when drying him.

Baby's skin is delicate—treat it with care.

GAMES GOVERNED BY LEAGUE RULES

Deputy Commissioner Franklyn R. Crisci of the Western Regional Softball tournament at a meeting at the Y. M. C. A. last night arranged for an eight-team City and County Softball tourney here that promises to be one of the best of its kind ever held. Seven New Castle clubs and a strong team from Ellwood City will vie for the championship.

All of the games will be governed by the Western Pennsylvania Softball tournament rules. The schedule of games will be drawn up by Frank Stansberry, Western Pennsylvania Commissioner when he visits with Mr. Crisci in New Castle for an inspection of the various fields.

The following teams are in the tourney—National Radiators, Ellwood City, B. V. M. Club, Nobils, Boro A. C., N. Y. A., Reiters, Spencers and Wabash Bears.

There are eight fast teams, the cream of the crop here in New Castle and Ellwood City. The City Association of Umpires will handle all of the games under the supervision of Mr. Costello. The following umps will work the games—Red Kollar, Anthony Pisanello, Clem General, Pete Zingaro, Jim Mash, Tip Richards, and Shorty Zidow. The umps will get $2.00 per game it was agreed upon.

All players eligible for the tourney must be residents of Lawrence county. Only 15 players will be on the list of each team in the tourney.

Friday, August 5th is the deadline for handing in of player lists to Frank Stansberry at his Pittsburgh office. There can be no changing of names on the lists after they are turned in. The umps will have full authority in the game.

Banquet Discussed

All games are to be played under the 1938 official Softball Rules. All teams must be uniformed.

The managers discussed a softball league banquet also last night and voted to have it at the Cathedral the first or second week in September. President Crisci will have tickets made and all managers will get them. It is hoped that about 1,000 softball players and fans will attend the banquet making it a successful affair.

Rambling Around World Of Sports

Answering a "school chum" . . . . Dear Mr. Landell: I would like to tell you how well we like your column, have found it extremely interesting and informative . . . . But, I want to ask you a question or two . . . we were schoolmates so I feel a little freer about it all . . . . so here is what I would like very much to know . . . if you can, will you tell me, first, where Dick Nolen is, he used to be an old O. and P. player and where is Wilbur Good, Bob Landerman and last Walter East, they were all with the old O. and P. . . . will you answer in your news, thank you very much, Charles M. . . . using a trite expression, we have scoured the town in the hope of finding someone who might know the whereabouts of the former stars . . . . Sam Marquis, one of the old-timers, was unable to recall the players . . . Charles Nolan, who had one of the finest teams, years ago, also was at a loss . . . Harry Steiner, of 236 Euclid avenue, remembers the players well, but does not know where they are at the present time . . . Steiner stated that Nolen was an outfielder for Akron; Good, was an exceptionally good outfielder who branched into the big leagues and later wound up with Columbus. Landerman played first base for Toledo and East was a second sacker for Erie. . . they played shortly before 1930. Steiner stated . . . during our chat with friend Steiner, we learned that a former New Castle sandlotter reached the majors . . . he was Walter Steiner, who started in New Castle, went to Kansas City and finally wore a St. Louis Browns' uniform . . . an attack of malaria fever during spring training was responsible for the ruination of Steiner's baseball career . . . .

Along the avenue . . . . met an old friend, Charles "Bill" Jones, who is located in Irwin . . . . Jones was one of New Castle's most versatile athletes several years back . . . he went as far as the Middle-Atlantic League in baseball . . . . Jones may be coaching the purposed New Castle Rooster club, this fall . . . . also brushed aside "Chuck" James, star halfback of Salem, who is preparing to don his moleskin again . . . his presence reminded us of the day he ran wild against Toledo Scott, at Taggart stadium . . . he dashed down the gridiron for three spectacular touchdowns, that day . . . . also chatted for a second or so with Willie Grommes, who recently copped the amateur golf title at Poland . . . . Grommes looked like a "pro" as he dashed along the avenue . . . . also learned that Gerald Newton, Ellwood City high, is a physical education student at Pitt summer school . . . . ditto for George Roark, former Westminster coach . . . .

Idle Sport Thoughts . . . . just about time for a new rumor starting that Glenn "Pop" Warner will replace . . . . is about time for Jerome "Dizzy" Dean to do a little more pepping-off . . . . he has been so quiet, and not by nature, either . . . wonder what caused "Wizzer". While to change his mind for the "umpteenth" time . . . . but Frankie Frisch is already making arrangements for something new next season . . . will Babe Ruth still serve in the capacity of coach with the Dodgers next season? . . . .

Dots and dashes along the sport front . . . . Hack Wilson, former Ellwood City pugilist, got into action at a semi-pro game in McKeesport . . . Back still in field. He has not played for months during the last baseball season . . . the Tigers will be minus Dean and Lad Lacquatte will be minus Dean and Lad Lacquatte will be minus Dean and Lad . . . Cecil Hodges, Mount Union football star, is the latest football material for the Cleveland Rams pro football team . . . Hank Degross, lanky pilot of Jones Cafe, is the same Hank who played Notre Dame . . . .

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Despite a threat of rain, about 800 fans turned out to see the pugilistic-packed show their punches Monday night in the Grove street arena. The show was exciting from start to finish. To be frank, the quality of the amateur bouts here is above many bouts staged in other cities. Apparently the fans have taken cognizance of this. At present Tom Leach is figuring on a fistic calendar for next Monday night that should be the equal of last Monday's production.

Mickie Ru in did not flash any "Dukes" when he stepped into the ring the other night and his manager, Jimmie Dime, was pleased with Rubin. Mickie could have possibly stopped his opponent in the first round had he shot a good stiff left hook to the midriff or chin. Sunkenen dropped Rubin in the opening round, but Mickey is a gamester and got up to win in the second. After seeing Baby Face Costa in action it might be said that he is a pretty fair amateur and one can see why he is winning consistently. It may come to pass that Kid Dewey, of Greenville, will be brought here to face the Baby Face. Dewey is said to be one of the best bantamweights in the country and has been boxing for years.

Vesta Hanover, not eligible for the Hambletonian, ran away with the feature race at Agawam, Mass., Tuesday. It was the $9,120 National for three-year-olds. She showed her heels to Champion, McLin and Long Key.

Charlie Burley of Pittsburgh, scored a technical knockout over Leon Zorrita, a California colored welterweight in the sixth round at Pittsburgh, last night. He was helped when the referee stopped the fight.

Pirates-Giants Both Lose, Cubs Are Creeping Up

Cubs Halt Giants 7 To 0, As Boston Bees Sting Pirates For 3 To 1 Upset

YANKEES LOSE, INDIANS GAIN

By ANTHONY J. PUGLIESE

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Striving to retain position in the National League race, the Chicago Cubs today continued their second-place battle with the pennant-leading New York Giants while the Pittsburgh Pirates played off an unsplit series at Boston.

Clay Bryant pitched the Cubs to the Giants 7 to 0. Home runs by Stan Hack and Bill Jurges combined with Bryant's brilliant hurling to give the Giant their 11th setback. Hubbell was charged with his eighth loss.

The Pirates were held to four scratch hits by Johnny Lanning as the Bees triumphed, 3 to 1. Al Todd's homer was the Bees' sole bright spot.

The Cincinnati Reds got ten hits off a wild pitch by Pete Sivess in the ninth and beat the Philadelphia Phillies 3 to 2 for Johnny Vander Meer's 12th triumph.

Use Yellow Ball

Using the new yellow ball for the first time the Brooklyn Dodgers took a double-header opener from the St. Louis Cardinals 6 to 2 as Freddie Fitzsimmons pitched eight hit ball. In the nightcap the Dodgers had more trouble with the rabbit ball as Dolph Camilli hit two homers for the Dodgers winning 9 to 3. The team will put Brooklyn in fifth place.

In the American League, the New York Yankees' lead was cut to a game and half as they lost to the Detroit Tigers 4 to 3 while the second place Cleveland Indians beat the Boston Red Sox 7 to 4.

Charley Gehringer hit his 14th home run of the year and Rudy York hit his 13th off George Caster with a mate on base for the Tigers' go-ahead tally. Lefty Grove and Archie Wilson.

News Carriers Guests Of Show

Over Two Hundred Newsboys Guests Of Dodson's World's Fair Shows Tuesday

Some 200 carriers from The News made merry on the midway of the Dodson's World's Fair Shows last evening as the guests of the management of the big show and the firemen's convention committee.

The boys made whoopee for two hours on the riding devices and in the tented theatres. They enjoyed the antics of the clowns and curiosities in the Ripley Show and then thrilled at the daring and breath-taking exploits of the daredevils in the Wall of Death.

After the tour of the midway the boys were escorted to specially provided seats to witness the big free circus program headed by Zacchini, the human cannon ball, and featuring such nationally famous acts as the Four Oppollos, highest aerial act in the world, and the Eagle Sisters, European high wire performers.

The boys went home happy after an evening of fun and merriment on America's largest midway and circus and were the envy of the neighborhood today when they started telling stories of their experiences on the gigantic midway.

The Dodson show which is exhibiting here all this week at the Troop F grounds at West Washington street extension played to over 5,000 patrons on the opening night and the firemen's convention committee is confident of a successful week's business.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

Every once in a while a letter comes in that really makes us think . . . but this morning we received one and not only did it mak us think but it did some of the thinking for us . . . and may I say this to the writer . . . I agree one hundred percent and I wish something could be done about said person . . . but under the present Political Protective Association there seems little hope . . . but as time goes on, time will tell . . . we are sorry readers but due to the fact that we are not ready to make public this letter, you will have to be content to use your imagination.

Life is a great old game . . . it plays many tricks before we make the retired team . . . but so far things have been going fairly well for me . . . but there is one thing that I can't seem to conquer . . . and that is finding my collar button . . . every time I dress it drops on the floor and rolls under the dresser . . . my wife having had untold of experience with hairpins said it was a simple matter to place the collar button where I could find it . . . "when you start to dress place the collar button between your teeth" . . . well, I tried this for several mornings and thought the problem licked when, plunk, I swallowed the button . . . well said my wife, "at least you know where it is this time".

After the rains we have been having and this being the month of August and according to reports, the right time of the moon we find that black planting and all sort of yard weeds come from the ground with very little effort on the gardeners part . . . so if you have nothing to do tonight . . . let's pull some weeds . . . everyone enjoys that sport . . . (hope the wife has some place for us to go tonight) but as we were saying . . . now is the time to pull weeds.

* * *

It won't belong until the Elks will be here enjoying their convention . . . and when they convention they really convention . . . after all it's the only time some of the boys really get to express themselves . . . and then right on their heels we have the firemen of the north western part of Pennsylvania . . . they too ought to enjoy themselves . . . we are anxious to see the parade they will have . . . "we love a parade" . . . and especially of fire eaters . . . there will be a hot time in the old town that night.

Market Today Is Irregular

After Brief Period Of Strength Market Turns Irregularly Lower Today

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—After a brief period of strength the stock market turned irregularly lower today in response to the intensified Russo-Japanese crisis over the border hostilities.

Stocks opened higher and then moved up in a continuation of yesterday's recovery but soon ran into selling. Most of the gains were wiped out and a number of leaders showed losses on the day.

Steels were prominent in the early rise, gains running to a point in Bethlehem. These gains were lost later while Crucible showed a small loss.

A similar pattern was displayed by the motors, where losses replaced gains running to over a point in Chrysler. American Smelting was strong in the coppers but others in the group eased after a rise at the start.

In the blue chips, Philip Morris ran up more than two to a new high but lost this later. Westinghouse dropped a point, as did Johns-Manville.

There was a flurry in the aviations, attributed to speculative demand due to the hostilities. Douglas was up nearly two points at one time but best prices were not held.

'Doug' Corrigan Would Like Job Building Planes

Would Not Take Transport Flying Job; Is Busy Arranging Retinue Of Tour

By KENNETH T. DOWNS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ABOARD S. S. MANHATTAN, AT SEA, Aug. 4 Returning to New York, where he will be accorded a gigantic reception in recognition of his trans-Atlantic flight in a $900 plane, Douglas Corrigan looked forward today to a new golden era for aviation.

"I think aviation is about to come into a great new phase of development," he said, "particularly trans-oceanic flying—and I want to grow with it."

While still not committed to any definite future, Corrigan expressed a preference for a position in an aircraft factory.

"I don't know for sure, yet," he said, "but I think if an opportunity offered in an aircraft factory, after my tour of the United States, I would accept it.

"I might possibly take a flying job, but not transport piloting, because that is too much of a grind and there is not enough opportunity to advance yourself."

Corrigan remarked that if he were to accept some of the offers he is receiving, especially in the entertainment world, his future in aviation probably would be ruined.

The young "mistake" flier remained secluded in his cabin most of this morning, trying to draw up a definite schedule of the American cities he plans to visit following his New York reception. The problem was becoming highly complicated owning to the steady arrival of new invitations.

Baptist Mission Society Groups Meet On Tuesday

Groups One And Three Have Delightful Outings At Ewing Park

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 3.— Mrs. Charles Markwort, of McKeesport, a former resident of this city was a special guest of Group 1 of the Women's Missionary society of the First Baptist church whose members held a ham fry on Tuesday evening at Ewing Park grove.

Twelve members shared the delightful event which began with the appetizing dinner at 5 o'clock. Honoring the birthday anniversaries of Mrs. Belle Burns and Miss Carrie Hazen, members presented them with an array of very lovely gifts.

On Tuesday evening, September 6, the next meeting will be held in the form of a corn roast at the home of Mrs. Amos Wiley, of Wiley Hill.

Group Three

Group 3 of the same society and church also held their monthly meeting last evening at Ewing Park. They had a good attendance of members and three guests, Miss Nellie Khendienst, Mrs. Margaret Chapman and Mrs. Brandon, shared the evening's activities.

At 6 o'clock, the group partook of a tempting picnic supper after which the hours were spent in a pleasant informal manner. They will meet again on Tuesday, September 6, with the place to be decided.

PENDERGAST IS GIVEN SETBACK

Senator Clark Winner.

United States Senator Bennett Champ Clark won the Democratic renomination for the senate by an overwhelming majority. Clark, who opposed some of the president's New Deal measures, had three opponents, two of whom campaigned on "100 per cent New Deal" platforms. However, the national administration took no part in the fight.

With 2,967 of the state's 4,426 precincts in, the vote was: Bennett C. Clark 346,414, Joseph T. Davis 59,176, Willis T. Meredith 24,413, Robert J. Young 16,965.

Former Gov. Henry S. Caulfield, St. Louis, easily won the Republican nomination for United States Senator over Ray E. White of Clayton.

Heated Contest.

The Billings-Douglas contest was one of the most heated state-wide Democratic party fights in recent years. Gov. Stark, who broke with the Pendergast organization last year, vigorously stumped the state for Judge Douglas, whom he had appointed to the supreme court to fill the vacancy. Pendergast, nationally known boss of Kansas City, threw his whole organizational strength behind Billings, a southeastern Missouri circuit judge.

Douglas' victory represents the second setback at the polls administered to a Pendergast choice since his heavy Kansas City machine vote gave him a powerful voice in the Democratic party throughout the state about seven years ago. U. S. Senator Bennett C. Clark defeated Pendergast's candidate, Charles M. Howell, for the senatorial nomination in the August, 1932 primary.

New Deal 'Purge' Becoming 'Rout' Says Hamilton

G. O. P. Chairman Cites Defeat Of Two New Dealers In Virginia As Latest Trend

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Defeat of two Virginia congressional candidates pledging support to President Roosevelt was termed a "crushing and humiliating" setback for the new deal today by John Hamilton, Republican national chairman.

He asserted that renomination of Rep. Howard Smith over his new deal opponent, William Dodd, Jr., and the defeat of Rep. Norman Hamilton, by former congressman Colgate Darden, Jr., running on the heels of the defeat of Rep. Marvin Maverick in Texas again indicates the anti-new deal sentiment is growing.

"What started out to be a new deal purge," Hamilton said, "is to become a new deal rout which will reach its climax in November."

Regarding results in the Republican primary in his own state of Kansas, Hamilton declared himself very happy. He expressed confidence that former Governor Clyde M. Reed, unsuccessful candidate for the Republican nomination for United States Senator, will be joined by Republican nominee Payne Ratner, successful candidate for governor, in a strong effort that will put Kansas back in the Republican column in November.

Opinion Favors Union Township

Judge Braham Holds Township Not Liable For Contamination Of Spring

In the case of Carl E. White against the Township of Union, Judge W. Walter Braham handed down an opinion at Lawrence county court this morning in which he grants a motion for judgment notwithstanding the verdict and enters judgment for the defendant.

The case is one in which White charged the Township of Union with negligence in allowing contamination of a spring on his property in Union township.

It seems that there was a run on McClelland avenue into which drains from sinks from houses on abutting property emptied. The gutters were paved as a WPA project, and failed to such an extent that the water, containing sewage, entered White's spring. When the case was tried it was on the theory that the township should have a reserve fund for a certain contingency. Standing the evidence which has now been granted.

Judge Braham in his opinion, discusses the rights of townships as relating to streets, and finds that the township has not been guilty of any negligence.

It is held however that the plaintiff in this case might have a cause of action against the property owners who are allowing water from sinks to run into a gutter and contaminate a spring.

Price-Cutting Rumor In Steel Industry False

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 3.—An apparently solid rumor of price-cutting in the steel industry was branded as false and groundless by officials here today.

An investigation this week was to culminate in a report that an independent company was producing black sheets at a cut for the auto industry. Most of the officials it was understood, had heard the rumor but none was asked to meet such a price.

Said one spokesman:

"The report is identical. It anything, we would look for higher prices, which increases costs. We heard the story from still a dozen sources but apparently it has no foundation."

A steel magazine said that lower prices had been quoted by Ford, General Motors Chrysler and others.

Very few executions have been received at the sheriff's office lately, owing partly to the fact that many of the lawyers are on their vacation, and there will be no sheriff sales until the September term of court. Usually sales are held monthly, but there were none scheduled for August, owing to the vacation period.

County commissioners opened bids yesterday for the removal of some half dozen houses on the right of way of the new road at Hillsville. The bids were rather lengthy as they specified what the bidder proposed to do. It will take some time for the commissioners to check them up and tell who is really the lowest bidder. Some of the bids were from Ohio contractors, and a question arose as to whether or not the contractors carried compensation liability. All of them said they did, and were of the opinion that it would cover work done in Pennsylvania. In order to be on the safe side the commissioners have asked their solicitor, William McElwee, to give them an opinion on the matter before the contract is awarded.

Judge Thomas W. Dickey is in receipt of another letter in which historical information is asked, this time from Mrs. F. L. Curfman, of Marysville, Mo. The letter is as follows: "I would like to get information concerning Allen Cameron of the Revolutionary war, and his wife, Betsy or Elizabeth. It seems as if she lived with her son, Robert Cameron, after the death of her husband, about 1791, possibly in New Castle, Pa. They had lived in Mifflin township, Allegheny county, Pa., about 1790. If you can give me any information about them I will appreciate it. They were buried in New Castle. Yours truly, Mrs. F. L. Curfman."

Judge Dickey has turned the letter over to The News for publication in the hope that some of the descendants of the persons named may be able to furnish the required information. There are quite a number of Camerons in Lawrence county.
